

Hi Beanstalks!

If you want to print out the Bean Pod* to look like a book:

1. Print out the pages (you might check the “reverse order” box when you print so the end product is a pile of spreads in the right order, with the cover on top, and the Calendar page right under it. Otherwise you’ll have to put the pages in order yourself.

2. Then take the cover page, place it face down on the table and put the stack (with the Calendar page being on top) on top of the faced-down cover page.

3. Staple in the corner, and fold in half like a booklet, and you’ll have the closest thing you can get to a booklet without using a saddle stitcher!

*If you want to save your color ink, you can print it in black and white.

If undeliverable please return to:

MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

by John Bewick, BBTC President

Hi, All.

We are getting in the fall now, and the autumn colors are just around the corner. The nights are cooler, and the days are still warm, which makes for good outdoor events during the day and indoor events at night.

There were several nice events in September including my barbeque and Jeanne's Holly Golightly party.

We have several upcoming events to look forward to in October. In addition to the first Friday and diner and a movie events, there is a "late summer bird walk" and an apple picking event.

Stefan is moving to New York, where he has a new job. I think I can speak for all the Beans in saying congratulations.

At the business meeting we will be talking about having a fall dance and whether to make it on Halloween. We will also be talking about the date for the weekend this spring.

I hope to see everyone at an upcoming event.

Your president,

JOHN

We also discussed getting more updated photos on the website if folks send them to Jan. It was also noted that we need to update the office email links for the website.

FOR RENT - TIMESHARE WEEKS

Hi All,

As many of you know, I'm currently unemployed. [NOTE from the Editor: But THAT'S changing SOON!] I own 3 timeshare weeks, and I am looking to rent two of them out to cover my annual maintenance fees that will be coming due at the end of the year. Here's what I've got:

High Point World Resort (near Disney World), located in Kissimmee, FL. Dates: 04/04/10 – 04/11/10

Description: 1 Bedroom with king size bed and queen size sofa bed. 1 bathroom. Full kitchen. 2 TVs. 1 mile from the main gate of Disney World. Cost: $635

Grandview at Las Vegas, located on "the strip" but about 6 miles down from the major attractions. Dates: 03/05/10 – 03/12/10

Description: 2 Bedrooms - their idea of a 2-bedroom is 2 side by side 1-bedroom units with a common entry way. That means, 2 full kitchens, 2 master bedrooms with king size beds, 2 living rooms with queen size sofa beds, 2 bathrooms, and 4 TVs. Since it actually is 2 units, you can rent half of it if you like.

Price: $700 – full 2 bedroom; $400 – 1 bedroom unit (slight extra charge due to cost of multiple Guest Certificates)

If you're interested in renting either of these weeks, please call or e-mail me ASAP.

SHELLED FROM THE BEANPOD

by Jeanne Smith, Bean Pod Editor

Hi, fellow Beanstalks.

We all know too well that we are now very much at the mercy of technology. I'm not aware of any Boston Beanstalks who are living "off the grid," and even "off the grid" souls rely on a lot of technology to make their independence possible. Your October Beanpod is dreadfully late because the 'Pod and I are at the mercy of a working PC, a PARTICULAR PC, which holds the software to put this thing together. My PC had become quite infirm due to my failure to keep my virus and firewall protections up to date (and to a daughter's downloading stuff onto the PC that was absolutely lethal to normal computing). I'm quite grateful that a very gracious geek friend got me back on line and working faster than before. If not for his kindness, who knows how long it would have taken me to switch to everything to a basic word processing app and get out a stripped-down newsletter?

Change and flux are part of our technology- and stress-ridden lives. Since we have to live with stress and change, we might as well embrace them. For example, Stefan Scherby is moving soon to New York for a new job. Before he exchanges New England clam chowder for the Manhattan stuff, let's party on October 24. (Look on page 20 for details.)

Kathy Lewis accepts the Woman of the Year award during September's First Friday from Marie Austin. (Photo credit -- Marie Austin)

Sylvia Martin was good about taking some pictures of the Holly Golightly party at my place on September 26. No, we weren't quite as crazy as those early 60s partygoers, but hosting an event was a great way to get to know Beanstalks better. Check out Perry's skinny tie on page 23.

If you're new to the 'Stalks or if you haven't hosted an event in a while, be brave -- HOST SOMETHING ALREADY! I love having lots to put into the 'Pod, whether it's upcoming events or pictures of the good times after the fact.

I hope to see everyone at the upcoming dance in November, if not sooner.

Walk tall.

Jeanne

I almost wrote "Early Fall Bird Walk" but what the hey—let's make the warm weather last as long as possible! Lovely Nahanton Park has a variety of habitats that make it attractive to migrating birds. Several different kinds of sparrows along with juncos, swallows, finches, and maybe a warbler should be about. They especially love the Victory Gardens areas, where there are lots of seeds on the plants. Wear comfortable walking shoes and bring binoculars if you have them. It's not a lot of walking, but some of it is on unpaved paths.

The entrance to Nahanton Park is on Winchester St. in Newton, on the right just past the golf course as you head toward Needham (in the upper right area of the map). Turn left after entering and drive down to the parking area near the sign board/gate. This walk is also sponsored by the Brookline Bird Club.
